Dedication

The 1952 edition of the Mary Baldwin BLUESTOCKING is dedicated to one who .....

came to the College in September of 1939, already an educational leader in the community. Since that time, his contributions to us have been not only in the field of Education and Psychology, but he was also instrumental in initiating the King Series, which have brought additional culture and entertainment to the people of Staunton as well as to the students of Mary Baldwin.

We know him to possess a wonderful understanding, a perpetual good humor and a smile for all.

We "have reference to in particular"..

Dr. H. L. Bridges

Foreword

Faculty and Classes, Activities, Features and Sports
five little grains, five grains of Time
the irreplaceable minutes
we have spent
sift softly
down
one
by one in a slow stream
into the abysm
of the empty hour-glass
and spill then into the past
the many accomplishments of the year.
Lost you say? Oh no! The hour-glass may be

You must admit that not everything grows larger with Time—certainly not the size of the Junior Class. One hundred and twenty-four strong we numbered in September '49, but now even with larger pictures, we can't cover three pages of the annual we have published! Oh well, it was "quantity", not "quality" we lost.

One of the things loved best about M. B., is the fact that its size enables the girls to make many close friendships during their time here. With the "special" size of the Class of '53 we have found this to be most true. We are closer this year. Girls are more willing to do things that they never would have done before . . . just for the sake of the Class. Indeed, Time was not uncompensating!

We, who have not much longer to be with you as Juniors, do wish but one thing: that the rising Juniors will bring with them their "quality" (of which they have a super-abundance) and a little more of that "quantity" that we lacked. Don't too many of you all think it would be more fun to be a lost Co-ed in a big University, or wildly negotiate matrimonial bonds. Your Class comes too close to dying out! Be brave, be fearless, be tough, be true—without much effort, the Juniors could outnumber the Seniors next year!

"Time goes you say? Ah no!
Alas Time stays, we go!"

Activities

The Mary Baldwin Student

JESSICA GILLIAM
President

The Student Government Association of Mary Baldwin College requires for its existence and effectiveness the cooperation and participation of each student. It is not the responsibility of the Faculty, the Trustees, the Alumnae or the Student Council, but the individual responsibility of each and every girl. At Mary Baldwin we feel that each student is mature enough to assume full responsibility of her actions; therefore throughout a girl's career here at our college, we endeavor to guide each individual into a fuller realization of honor and cooperation as a basis of her life.

The Board of Trustees granted the charter of Student Government to the College—which has, in turn, given it to the Association. The Student Government Association considers itself extremely fortunate in having the sincere backing and interest of the College Administration. We feel deeply the need for wise guidance and foresight of people who have worked with students for years.

Honor, the basis of our Student Government, is the living force of our life at Mary Baldwin. It is not solely the College that backs us but we, the students, that must back the College. Each student must decide whether her loyalties lay solely with herself or also with the college community of which she is such a vital part. We realize that no one is perfect, and this sense of inadequacy and of a need for outside help has drawn the Student body into a striving for that which is of value, purpose, and meaning in life.

Therefore, as a member of the Student Government Association, each girl solemnly pledges that:

"Believing in the principles of Student Government, I pledge myself to uphold the ideals and regulations of the Association of Mary Baldwin College. I recognize the principles of honor and cooperation as the basis of our life together and shall endeavor faithfully to order my life accordingly and to encourage others to fulfill the ideals of the honor system."

Purpose

We unite in the desire to realize full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God.
We determine to have a part in making this life possible for all people.
In this task we seek to understand Jesus and follow Him.

The Y. W. C. A. is the oldest student organization at Mary Baldwin College, and is a charter member of the National Y. W. C. A. Through the years the Y has sought to uphold the purpose of the organization by providing a program of worship, study and action in which every student may have an opportunity to put Christianity into action.

Each Sunday night the Y has a vesper service which gives a chance for worship and participation. Early morning devotions are held each Monday morning and Dormitory devotions are held each Wednesday night. The Y provides a prayer room where students may go for private devotions.

Y night is an opportunity for study and discussion in a concentrated field. Religious Emphasis Week is held each year. Dr. Bernard Boyd of the University of North Carolina led the services this year. The Y reaches out to study and help students in other lands through the World Student Service Fund.

Many of the students participate in the community service projects at the Deaf and Blind School, the Negro Day Nursery, Betty Bickle Home, and Western State Hospital.

The Y Cabinet works with committees that carry out the various activities of the Y. W. C. A. The Cabinet meets weekly to make the overall plans. It is the aim of the Cabinet to promote a program that will not only give students an opportunity to work and worship, but to grow in the Christian life.

These upperclassmen, appointed by the Student Council upon the recommendation of the Dean and the chairman of the Freshmen Advisors, serve throughout the year as personal advisors to the new students. They give individual guidance and encouragement to the freshmen in their initial adjustment to college life. Appointed by the Student Council, a senior house president serves as chairman of this group.

Student organizations form a vital part of our life on the campus. Each club has its own purpose and a girl chooses the one in which she is most interested. A genuine interest and appreciation of music is shown through the Music Club, the Chapel Choir, the Organ Guild, and the Glee Club.

The Music Club meets monthly and holds receptions following the concerts at the college. The Chapel Choir is made up of selected voices from the Glee Club, and it has an important part in our Chapel services during the week. The Organ Guild is a small organization made up of students interested in studying organ. It is affiliated with the American Guild of Organists. The Glee Club is under the direction of Mr. Gordon Page. It is made up of sixty voices selected by tryouts at the beginning of the school year. The Glee Club presents Christmas and spring concerts, and joint concerts with men's college Glee Clubs.

Our cabin, Chip Inn, supplies many pleasant hours of picnicing and good fun for the students. It is located about twenty miles from Staunton at the foot of the Blue Ridge mountains. Our new club is the center of most of the activities on the campus. The Club House Committee sees that the building is kept clean, and that the rules for the club are enforced.

The Day Student Club is organized chiefly for the purpose of giving day students the opportunity to participate as a group in the various activities on campus. Miss Fannie Strauss is their sponsor. The Beta Beta Beta is a National Honorary Biological Fraternity. Its purpose is to promote the dissemination of scientific truth, and to encourage biological investigation. Le Cerle Francois is made up of girls having had at least two years of French and showing an interest in the language. All meetings are conducted in French and Miss Clare Flansburgh is the sponsor. The Curtain Callers acts as a producing group in connection with the drama department. It offers an opportunity for students not enrolled in those courses, as well as drama students, to follow their interests in things theatrical. The International Relations Club promotes interest in world affairs. Movies and discussions are included on their program. The club is sponsored by the Carnegie Endowment for International peace.

The college annual serves as a summary of the high-lights of the year—a monument to them. It tries to bring together into one book the activities and associations which will become to students in later years, a part of their indelible memory of Mary Baldwin.

We of the 1952 BLUESTOCKING staff have found as the staffs before us, that it isn't easy to represent the activities of a whole year in a single volume. We do hope tho', that this year's publication neither adhers to the design of the first Mary Baldwin annual which was issued sixty-one years ago, nor too much to that of only a year ago.

The publication of the BLUESTOCKING has been for some years the privilege and responsibility of the Junior Class. Its Editor and Business Manager are elected by the student body from the Juniors and these two girls in turn select the rest of their staff. The tradition is to give the annuals to the students in the Spring, usually in May, after the Junior-Senior banquet.

Many thanks to Janet Mitchell, Liz DeLoach, Lee Pierce and Jane Tucker, who generously donated their talents and time to help us with the annual. And to another, Miss Fannie Strauss our faculty advisor, without whose guidance and advice the whole book would have been an impossible task.

Member of the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association and the National Scholastic Press Association.

Campus Comments

PATRICIA CASEY
Business Manager

Campus Comments made its first appearance on December 15, 1924. It was related to the Literary Society in that it was sponsored by the Miscellany. Its original purpose was to present interesting tid-bits about campus life in an informal way but about 1930 this purpose changed and remains the same today – to give a good report of the news on the campus.

The journalistic quality of the paper advanced quickly and Campus Comments became one of the leading papers published by a small girls' college, an honor it still holds.

The size of the paper varied often until the fall of 1933 when it became the size of a daily newspaper. It remained that size until 1945 when it was reduced to the tabloid size it is today. Twenty to twenty-five issues are published each year by the staff, with the contribution from the faculty and student body.

Campus Comments is a member of the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association, the Associated Collegiate Press, and the National Scholastic Press Association.

Miss Mary Swan Carroll has been faculty advisor for Campus Comments since 1931.

JANET MITCHELL
Business Manager

In 1899, the Literary Society of Mary Baldwin Seminary published a portfolio of classical reviews and news, the first Miscellany. As we look back, we find these early issues provide an excellent record of student life and interests. From that time the Miscellany has gradually evolved into a magazine containing the best pieces of writing produced at Mary Baldwin; a collection of stories, poems, essays and articles on various subjects to entertain, to present new ideas and new viewpoints.

In intermittent years the magazine has sponsored contests for students, offering prizes for the best in poetry and prose.

At Commencement, June 1952, a special award will be presented for the fourth time for the outstanding contributions of the year in these fields.

The Miscellany is a member of the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association and the National Scholastic Press Association. Under its sponsorship, Campus Comments first appeared in 1924 and soon became an important publication in its own right. For over half a century, the Miscellany has presented a quarterly portfolio of creative writing, a literary magazine penned, designed and edited by and for the students of Mary Baldwin.

Mary Baldwin Honor Society

The Mary Baldwin Honor Society was established in 1932 for the encouragement and fostering of scholarship. In recognition of scholarly aptitudes which have been demonstrated throughout their courses of study, a small number of seniors are elected each June to membership in the Society. Certain alumnae who had distinguished records in Mary Baldwin Seminary and Mary Baldwin College before 1932 have also been initiated into this organization.

Algernon Sydney Sullivan Award

The New York Southern Society and Mary Baldwin College have jointly arranged for the presentation of a medallion at Commencement each year to the girl who, because of the quality of her life, is judged to be the appropriate recipient of the award. While the award recognizes accomplishments, unselfish service is the fundamental principle, as this was the keynote of the life of Algernon Sydney Sullivan, whose name the award bears.

CLUB INFORMALS

Athletics

ANNE SCHLOSSER

President

Love of sports as learned in college should be a carry-over in future life.

At Mary Baldwin, every girl is a member of the Athletic Association. In the purpose of the Association is included the high aims of sportsmanship, total fitness and the enjoyable use of leisure time. To foster this purpose, a year-round program is sponsored.

The variety of activities participated in at Mary Baldwin has increased through the years, until now the Association offers students opportunities to take part in practically every individual and group sport popular among women today. Hockey, swimming, basketball, volleyball, tennis, archery and softball are classed as our major sports and for each, except basketball which is played on a dormitory basis, there are class teams. Honorary varsities are selected from the participants. The minor, or recreational sports, are presented on a more informal basis. There are no teams but tournaments are held for each of them.

The Association's work emphasises the intramural program. It believes that through such a program, we achieve more participation by a larger number of girls.

To receive this award, a student must have been a member of five class or dormitory teams representing at least three different sports, to have made a contribution to the Athletic Association other than merely playing on the teams, to demonstrate sportsmanship conduct in all college activities and to make an effort to improve athletic skills. This award is not made before the end of a student's second year at Mary Baldwin. The purpose of this Club is to work for the welfare of the Athletic Association and the College.

DOLPHIN CLUB

The purpose of the Dolphin Club is to promote enthusiasm for swimming and to improve swimming skill. Sponsored by the club is a "Splash Party" given for the freshmen at the first of the year. The swimming pageant, an annual spring Dolphin Club production, this year was called "MAILCALL". Try-outs for the Dolphin Club are held twice during the school year. The club holds regular meetings every month. Miss Mildred Droste acts as faculty advisor and sponsor of the club.

Captains Daphne Brown, Liz DeLoach, Doris Liddle, Alice James, Peggy Gignilliat, Barbara Howard, Joan Martin, Martha McKnight, Nancy Quinn, and Bee Belshee, inspire their teams to victory . . . Enthusiastically supported by both faculty and students.

A preview of this coming softball season is given in the fall at the Athletic Association picnic when the seniors tackle the faculty in an exciting game. The class cup is awarded at the annual Athletic Association Banquet to the class which has come out on top in the class tournament play.

Volleyball . . . has gained in popularity and has been added to the list of major sports for class competition . . .Class tournament begins in March. Recreational Sports . . . year-round athletic interest. Bowling and skating are the non-seasonal activities. Golf is emphasized in the spring tournament, but many is the day in both spring and fall that finds Ingleside Golf Course filled with Mary Baldwin girls. Nancy Quinn won the table tennis tournament in the fall. In badminton singles Nancy Quinn was champ, and again in the doubles, Nancy Quinn and Jessie Carr were victorious. Pool is a special sport here, filling many extra half-hour periods.

Folk Dance

THE DANCE

Neither Modern nor Folk Dance is represented on the Athletic Council or included in the Association's program, but they both have a place in the school's physical education work. In recent years the place of the Dance in the American life has been revaluated and it is now being studied more and more by people who have no professional aspirations. The Greeks long ago recognized it as a means of grace. We of today are realizing that the value of the Dance lies not only in its physical exertion, but also in the intellectual, emotional and artistic experiences it offers.

During one of her years at Mary Baldwin, every student is enrolled in a dance class even if it is only at the beginning level. In Modern Dance, the girls learn to express with body movement the basic emotions of love, conflict, war and religion, and create their own choreographies. The Folk dance is tied in with the customs of the people it represents; becoming acquainted with the dances of different peoples makes the dance more meaningful and gives an insight into their lives. Both forms of dance present a chapel program during the winter quarter and in the spring they provide the dances for the Commencement Pageant.

". . . whosoever would leave his body supple, easy and healthful, should learn to dance." (Socrates)

1952 BLUESTOCKING

Sometimes it is the nature of a craft to create an unbreakable tie between itself and the worker in that field, a heart attachment equal to lifetime devotion. One familiar example is PRINTING. Once editor, once compositor, or pressman catches the spirit of the shop, the spell is seldom broken. Like the odor of a camp fire, or a whiff of salt air, the beloved tang of printer's ink, symbolical of a great profession, gets into your heart and soul. School Annuals, Magazines, Newspapers and Special Printing, all smack of it. It is an invisible link that binds all intelligence together. It is the stimulus for creation in business or romance. This craftsmanship, this devotion to service and alertness to business needs, has nourished and developed an enormous industrial vitality, and whichever way the course of the future runs, the printer will always find himself able to adapt his helpfulness to new opportunity.

Years of experience have taught us! Printing Pays Us Only When It Pays You!
